Native communities worldwide are working to preserve their local ecosystems, which are deep roots to their cultures. Find the communities featured in Roots of Wisdom and a few of the many other stories below.

How are communities near you responding to environmental challenges?

Can you add a story to the map?

Find out more at http://www.nmai.si.edu/environment/